

Learn about playwriting and creative ways to meet literacy standards

summer New Voices institute

Especially for MS/HS educators

The Louisville Writing Project is proud to present this exciting 4-day workshop. Teacher consultants who have worked with Actors' Theatre to engage students in playwriting will share classroom-tested strategies and materials that address speaking/listening, reading & writing standards. Participants will also learn a process for developing a 10-minute play. Learn about ATL's New Voices contest. Winning student plays are produced by Actors Theatre in April 2015.

Louisville, KY

WHAT YOU GET!

- Experienced Teacher Leaders to assist you in learning how to engage teens in playwriting
- Resources to take back to your school
- TIME and assistance as you develop your playwriting skills
- Opportunities for follow-up at our Fall Conference

LOCATION

Actor's Theatre of Louisville
315 W Market St., Louisville · (502) 584-1205

Please note that we are meeting in the Bingham Rehearsal Hall, best accessed on Market rather than via the Main Street entrance. Proceed through the double glass doors next to the FedEx Office store, past security and straight down the hallway. Take the elevator to the fifth floor.

Indoor parking is available in the Actors Theatre garage (day rate: $8.00 to $10.00) adjacent to the theatre, with entrances from Main Street and Third Street. Limited metered street parking is also available. Be aware that you may need to move your vehicle at 3:00 p.m., depending on where you park, if you park on the street.

Participants will earn 24 hours of PD credit.

Learn how narrative writing skills advance students' college-and-career-readiness skills.

Real-world publishing opportunity—students submit plays to ATL's New Voices contest.
